UNITED STATES DEFINITELY OUT OF COURT STOP BROADWAY PLAYS

REFUSAL OF SENATE RESERVATIONS HAS ENDED COURT ISSUE

Opponents Rejoice As British Act Becomes Known

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—The effort to put the United States into the world court was described today as "a closed incident."

Great Britain's refusal to accept the senate reservations long known but just officially communicated to the state department, coupled with President Coolidge's refusal to alter those reservations in any way, was the crowning blow that killed any chance of American adherence.

Senators of every shade of opinion apparently joined today in expressing satisfaction that the long controversy is ended. Even Senator Lenroot (R) of Wisconsin, who led the administration's fight for adherence, said:

"That settles it, so far as we are concerned. So long as the other members of the court do not desire us to go in on the terms laid down we will stay out."

There was much rejoicing on the part of the court's opponents. The old irreconcilables were particularly joyful.

"We ought to give three cheers for John Bull," said Senator Moses (R) of New Hampshire.

"It is very fortunate for us," said Senator Reed (D) of Missouri, "that English statesmanship recognized the absurdity of the situation."

"We are well out of it," said Senator Hiram Johnson (R) of California.

"Let all the earth be glad and rejoice with exceeding great joy," quoted Senator Watson (R) of Indiana.

"Thank God," said Senator Cole Blaise (D) of South Carolina.

The only way now in which the United States could become a member of the court would be:

(1) For Great Britain and other countries to withdraw their rejection of the senate reservations, an extremely improbable, if not impossible, procedure.

(2) For the senate to reconsider its reservations and write new ones—an admitted impossibility under existing conditions. A complete turnover of the senate's membership would be necessary to accomplish this, as it is probable a majority of the senate now favors America staying out.

The casualties suffered by pro-court senators in last year's primaries and in the November elections have won over many of those who waveringly supported the court when the original vote was taken a year ago last January. Six senators were beaten for re-nomination, where the court was an issue, and six others were defeated in the following election.

REFUSE REWARD DUE TO TECHNICALITY

CINCINNATI, O., Feb. 10.—The $1,000 reward offered by Hamilton commissioners for the "arrest and conviction" of the slayer of Beulah Purvis, Lawrenceburg, Ind., farm girl, will not be paid to Marshal Andrew Wagner, of the nearby village of Lockland, who arrested the Big Miami river, was adjudged insane by a jury and was never technically "convicted" for the crime, county officials decreed that no reward would be paid.

The negro has been sent to the state hospital for criminal insane at Lima, O.

CAN'T CHARLESTON AND BE INTOXICATED

CLEVELAND, O., Feb. 10.—Prohibition and the Charleston are incompatible. At least that was the verdict of United States Commissioner W. J. Monahan here after James Hudson, a professional dancer, had pleaded that the intricate steps could not be executed while drunk. Hudson had been arrested in a cabaret raid.

CAPITOL SOCIETY PUZZLED BY WORK DINNER

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—Capitol society and politicians were still puzzling today over the nature of Secretary of the Interior Work's dinner to President and Mrs. Coolidge Tuesday night, and although thirty-six hours have elapsed no one as yet has come forward with a plausible reason for the cabinet officer's decision to turn the annual affair into that amounted to an official function.

For years it has been the custom of each member of the cabinet to arrange a small and informal dinner in honor of the chief executive. These dinners have been held in the privacy of the home, or, where the department head resides in a hotel, in a private dining room. Only a few intimate friends of the cabinet officer have been invited.

Yet Work engaged the staid Pan American Union Building which the state department employs for state functions. The Marine Band played for the occasion.

Instead of a few intimate friends, his guests included the greatest figures in the financial world—Ford, Firestone, Guggenheim, Eaton, Ogden Reid, P. T. Crowley and others. Rockefeller, Schwab, Gary and Curtis were invited but unable to attend.

TAGGART SAYS EVANS WOOLLEN IS "DARK HORSE" OF DEMOCRATS

Predicts Mid-West City Will Get Convention; Anticipates Smith And McAdoo Fight; Bars Prohibition

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Feb. 10.—Chicago, Cincinnati, Cleveland or St. Louis will get the next Democratic national convention; prohibition should not be made a national campaign issue; William Gibbs McAdoo of California and Governor Alfred E. Smith of New York will mix in another hot personal battle for the presidential nomination, but Evans Woollen of Indiana is the "dark horse" to be watched.

These are the opinions of Thomas Taggart, former United States Senator from Indiana and present Democratic leader of that state, as expressed to International News Service in an interview today at the Flamingo Hotel here, where the Indiana leader is enjoying a winter rest.

"I sincerely hope that prohibition will not be made a national political issue in the 1928 presidential campaign," Taggart said. "There are just as many Republicans as there are Democrats that want liquor. An attempt is now being made, as has been made in other campaigns to saddle the liquor on to the backs of the Democrats. But I did not want to have my party win on the issue of liquor. It should not be an issue."

"Governor Smith of New York and W. G. McAdoo will be the dominating figures of the 1928 convention, at its start, as they were in the Madison Square Garden struggle in 1924. Their fight will run a similar course again but more briefly. I believe that Evans Woollen of Indianapolis is the logical selection. He is relatively known nationally, although he is known in Indiana.

"Woollen is a former attorney, now a banker and business man, and is first vice-president of the American Central Life Insurance Company. He was federal fuel administrator for Indiana in 1917 and 1918, a member of the Indiana State Council of Defense and chairman of the Indiana commission of the War Finance Corporation."

Other figures seen by Taggart as bulking important in the 1928 convention are Senator Jim Reed of Missouri, Edwin Thomas Meredith of Iowa, former Secretary of Agriculture, and Governor A. C. Ritchie of Maryland.

Taggart indicated that he did not believe Governor Smith would win the nomination, but he had this to say:

"If the Democrats do nominate Smith I believe all Democrats in every section of the country—and I do not exclude the south—would vote for him. I believe he would make a good president, but Woollen would have strength which Smith could not command. He would make the best contender the Democrats have put forward in years."

Chicago, Cincinnati, Cleveland or St. Louis will be the next convention city, in his opinion, Taggart said.

"The farmers in the west and the cotton growers in the south present the first real problems for political solution," he declared. "Next in importance is the tariff."

Mrs. Taggart and their daughter Lucy are here with Taggart. They will remain until the end of March.

LOVERS' QUARREL CAUSES SHOOTING

TOLEDO, O., Feb. 10.—James Laughlin, 45, of Lockhaven, Pa., and Mrs. Rose Mary Kenn, 49, of Toledo, are near death at Mercy Hospital here today, the result of a double shooting. Police believe the shooting followed a lover's quarrel. Laughlin told them he gave Mrs. Kenn $80 last October to get a divorce. She changed her mind.

Last night a quarrel took place at the woman's home. The shooting followed. Mrs. Kenn was shot through the abdomen. Laughlin has a wound under his heart.

The arrival of the President and Mrs. Coolidge was announced by a fanfare of trumpets and the presidential ruff. Every other feature of the dinner was in keeping with this ultra-formality.

Those who follow the ways of society—and politics—are still guessing.

Present also were Secretary of Commerce Hoover and Sir Esme Howard, the British ambassador. Rare have been the occasions when other cabinet officers have attended these gatherings, and never—at least in the memory of the oldest correspondents—has a foreign envoy graced the board.

ACTORS FROM THREE PRODUCTIONS HELD AFTER POLICE RAID

Plays "Licentious" City
Officials Of New York Rule

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—Raids on three Broadway plays, in which forty-one actors, producers and managers were arrested last midnight, will be repeated if the theaters open their doors today, Acting Mayor Joseph McKee announced.

The lack of censorship as a curb to licentious performances, it was said, spurred city officials to take the matter in their own hands and clean the stage through strict enforcement of the penal code.

Thus last night, after the curtain fell on the last act, the cast, managers and producers of "Sex" at Daly's; "The Virgin Man," at the Princess, and "The Captive," at the Empire, were politely bundled into taxicabs, taken to the night court and held by Magistrate Flood in varying bail for hearings on Monday and Tuesday. All are charged with "corrupting morals of youth" and maintaining a public nuisance.

Nathan Burkan, who appeared for "The Captive" cast, said he would seek an injunction if necessary to protect his clients. He intimated that the management of the Empire will open the theater today in defiance of the city's orders.

There were forty-one stage folk in all, and Broadway—the thousands who got wind of the raids—experienced a real thrill.

To most of the Rialto folk it was a mighty funny affair, to city officials a mighty serious one. To impress this on the theatrical folk who crammed every nook and corner of the West Side night court, Acting Mayor McKee let it be known that policemen will be stationed today at each of the theaters raided, and arrests will be made if any attempt is made to re-open the theaters.

McKee said that police will use their discretion in stopping any of three shows that essay to reopen. They are empowered to halt the show before it gets under way, or stop it after it has started or, as last night, wait until the show is ended before making any arrests.

Similarly, such stars as Helen Mencken, Basil Rathbone, Gail Kane and Norman Trevor, along with lesser members of the cast were, with the same politeness, ushered into waiting taxicabs. James Sinnott, secretary to the police department, personally aided in the arrests of Miss Mencken and Miss Kane. Twelve "captives" were taken.

"The Virgin Man" was the last to feel the strong arm of the law. Seven members of this cast joined the contingent in night court.

Assistant District Attorney Under previously had arranged to hold the principals of the casts and managers in $1,000 bail and the lesser performers in $500.

INCREASE IN STATE GAS TAX PROVIDED IN NEW HOUSE BILL

Distribution Of Tax Money Changed In New Proposal

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 10.—Bills proposing an increase in the state gasoline tax from two to three cents per gallon, authorizing use of a portion of this revenue for construction of highways by the state, enlarging the state's share of this fund, and providing for the sale of state auto license tags once in five years, instead of annually as at present, are pending today in the Ohio House of Representatives.

Rep. Frank A. Brown, Ross County, offered a bill decreasing that the state shall receive fifty per cent, instead of forty-five per cent, of the state gasoline tax, that cities shall receive twenty-five per cent, instead of thirty as at present, and that the twenty-five per cent allotted to Ohio's eighty-eight counties shall remain unchanged. Brown's bill authorizes the state to appropriate definite sums from this fund for construction of new highways.

A bill, by Rep. A. O. Burnett, Trumbull County, would increase the gasoline tax to three cents per gallon and permit motorists to retain a state license tag five years without an increase in the license fee. Burnett estimated that not only would the boost in the gasoline tax offset the loss in revenue from the sale of auto tags, but his proposed law would effect a saving to the state of more than $600,000 annually, the amount now spent for the manufacture of auto license tags.

Rep. Dallas Sullivan, Union County, introduced a bill providing for a three-cent gasoline tax and increasing the state's share of this revenue to 65 2/3 per cent.

McKee said that police will use their discretion in stopping any of three shows that essay to reopen. They are empowered to halt the show before it gets under way, or stop it after it has started or, as last night, wait until the show is ended before making any arrests.

RADIO FURNISHING ENTERTAINMENT TO INFIRMARY PEOPLE

Appreciating the co-operation of the entire county, business men, clubs, organizations and Sunday School classes in the splendid response to the appeal for the radio fund for the County Infirmary, the Xenia Sunshine Society, through the president and chairman of the radio fund, is announcing the success of the fund.

The committee collected $302.36 for the radio fund. Eichman and Miller Electric Shop installed the Atwater Kent in the main building and Harry Hagler installed the A. C. Dayton radio in the hospital.

As the electricity is only in one or two places on the first floor and in the basement of the main building, wiring had to be done to get the current for the charge and this extra work was done free of charge by Eichman and Miller. The committee had to hire a man for the extra wiring at the hospital, as there is no electrician in that building and the current had to be taken from the main building for the A. C. Dayton.

The society is sponsoring a movement to have both buildings properly wired for electric lights. The cost of both radios came to $17.00 and the extra wiring $11.29, leaving $14.97 in the reserve fund. This money in the reserve fund will be kept for batteries and tubes or any other expense which might come up for the radio.

"It is impossible to describe the happiness brought to all the inmates through the radio," Mrs. Cherry said in making the report. "Many hours each day are spent listening in to music, sermons and talks. A second cord was attached to the radio in the hospital and run upstairs to the sessions and the committee in charge has arranged to serve a buffet lunch following the weekly meeting. Every member is urged to attend and bring a friend."

EAGLES WILL HOLD OPEN HOUSE FRIDAY

In conjunction with the intensive membership campaign being conducted by Xenia Aerie No. 1839, Fraternal Order of Eagles, for its Working President's Class to be initiated March 27, another open house for members of the Aerie and their friends will be held at the hall from 7:30 to 9:30 o'clock Friday night, February 11. State Organizer E. J. Goetz, who at present is conducting a drive for new members in Washington C. H., is expected to be in Xenia that particular week-end and will probably consent to make an address at the open meeting.

The series of open meetings is in the nature of "get-togethers" sessions and the committee in charge has arranged to serve a buffet lunch following the weekly meeting. Every member is urged to attend and bring a friend.

Mrs. Hatch admitted that the ceremony marked her third matrimonial venture. McLaughan is a native of Houston, Tex.

Too Much "Acid?"

Excess Uric Acid Gives Rise to Many Unpleasant Troubles. AUTHORITIES agree that an excess of uric acid is primarily due to faulty kidney action. Retention of this toxic material often makes its presence felt by sore, painful joints, a tired, languid feeling and, sometimes, toxic backache and headache. That the kidneys are not functioning right is often shown by scanty or burning passage of secretions. Thousands assist their kidneys at such times by the use of Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic. Doan's are recommended by many local people. Ask your neighbor!

Little Old New York

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—George Tyler staged a revival of Piner's "Trelawny of the Wells" with an all-star cast that included Mrs. Whiffen, Henrietta Crossman, Effie Shannon, Wilton Lackaye, Lawrence D'Orsay, John Drew, O. P. Heggie and some others. Naturally there wasn't enough "white meat" to go around and some of them were called upon to share the "neck."

They all tried hard enough but it's been so long since they've played minor roles they flustered, going through their parts with the same sort of gracious condescension and amused interest that Walter B. Wheeler might assume, thumbing the pages of "The Lives of the Saints."

Which proves that a judicious admixture of alloy is as necessary to a theatrical troupe as a wedding ring.

When Charlie Lincoln assumed control of the New York Herald under the late lamented "Uncle" Frank Munsey, every man on the staff was a "star." It was probably the greatest aggregation of reportorial talent ever grouped in one city room.

"I have the finest staff in the country," Charlie remarked to a friend one day. "The only trouble is, the city desk doesn't send me out on anything less than a three-alarm fire. If I had about half a dozen good, mediocre, willing $30-a-week leg men I think I'd be the happiest managing editor in town."

Lincoln left the World to take the Herald job. The move was under discussion at the time in the city hall reporters' room.

"I understand," said Dan Green, "that he's going to be Munsey's right-hand man."

"Maybe," replied "Doc" Adams, "but you got to remember Munsey's left-handed."

There's a new show on Broadway called "Tommy," that's bright, well acted and clean as a ten-year-old school boy's love for his teacher.

An old fellow and his wife sat directly in front of me the other night at the play. He was a tough old bird who might have been anything from a Methodist Sunday school superintendent to the "bachelor" for a bootlegging concern. He had a scrawny, leathery neck with more creases in it than grandma's wedding dress. He was one of those men that the minute you look at them you find yourself feeling sorry for their wives.

The missus said something to him after they settled into their places and he snarled a gruff response, that forestalled further conversation.

The play deals with the love story of three kids.

At the end of the first act the old bird in front of me had his wife's hand in his and both were smiling happily.

Any show that can produce an effect like that is worth $3.30 a seat.

Bob Patterson is the Herald Tribune's latest war correspondent at Albany. He used to be a "Mature syndicate" and he felt that having weathered the varying temperaments of C. T. Brainard, Edith O'Dell and Howard Wheeler, nothing that Al Smith could trot out would have the least terror for him.

He breezed into the 42d street and Broadway Country club the other night and joined a group that included Syl. Sullivan, John J. Leary, Dan O'Keefe, Sam Macfarlane, Denny Lynch, Mike Flynn and other case-hardened Boulevardiers.

"What'd you have?" said Sullivan. "O-o-o-oh, I don't know," replied Bob, his tones reverberating like thunder in the mountains. "I think I'll take a cup o'weak tea and a slice o' lemon!"

Pile Sufferers
How Far Have You Gotten With Messy Ointments?

Don't be surprised that suppositories and salves haven't rid you of Piles. The most they can do is bring temporary relief. They never reach the cause—blood stagnation in the lower bowel.

Piles can be removed by an operation. Sure! But who wants to submit to the surgeon's knife when a harmless little tablet taken internally can banish the cause of Piles and bring real, lasting and honest-to-goodness relief?

Forget about an operation and stop using salves. Hem-Roid, the internal remedy discovered by Dr. Leonhardt, should quickly rid you of Piles the same as it is doing for thousands of others or costs nothing.

Get a package of Hem-Roid today at Sayre's Drug Store or any druggist. It is absolutely harmless and if you aren't delighted with the results you can have your money back.

Why Washington County Citizens Like Concrete Highways

Washington County commenced a concrete highway program in 1912—nearly 15 years ago. Today, prominent citizens and officials voice their satisfaction in their road system and back their judgment by continuing to pave the highways with concrete.

From President J. H. McCoy, of The Peoples Banking & Trust Co., Marietta:

"Those of us who have been working for the betterment of roads believe, after making a thorough investigation, that the concrete type is the most permanent road and requires the least maintenance."

From H. E. Smith, President, Washington County Automobile Association:

"Concrete roads are being built in Washington County because such roads have met modern traffic requirements in so many places similar to our own community. We feel we have made no mistake in choosing concrete as a paving material on many of our roads."

DAYTON WOMEN GIVE

W. C. T. U. ADDRESSES
Mrs. Plesinger, Dayton, told the McClellan W. C. T. U., of her "cheer" work among men in the hospital at the Military Home, Dayton, in an interesting talk at the home of the Misses McClellan, Wednesday. The boys, many of them far from home and friends, are very appreciative of visits from the W. C. T. U. and other organizations," she said. "They placed all on the altar of their country, now they are our wards, hungry for sympathy and love. Visit these boys, I feel we forget."

Miss Earl Soward, president, directed the forenoon session of the meeting. The devotions were in charge of Mrs. Will McCall. Mrs. Clinton Manor read a selection, "Frances Willard's Day of Freedom" and a short sketch of the life of Miss Willard was read by Mrs. J. S. Van Eaton. Noonday prayer was offered by Mrs. W. O. Custis. The Rev. Mr. Leaming led the devotion in the afternoon session. Mrs. Manor had charge of the program.

Miss Lulu Sollers, who is at the head of the Police Women's Bureau, Dayton, gave an interesting talk on her work. The department is maintained primarily for the protection of women and girls, she told the society. "Modern home life and the movies are responsible for much of the child delinquency. The community does not live up to its responsibility in re-establishing the boys and girls who have gone wrong," Miss Sollers stated. "More 'big brothers and sisters' are needed to lend a hand to the weaker ones."

Two vocal numbers by the Rev. Mr. Leaming were much enjoyed. About fifty women attended the meeting.

YOUR SICK CHILD IS CONSTIPATED! LOOK AT TONGUE

Hurry, Mother! Remove poisons from little stomach, liver, bowels

Give "California Fig Syrup" if cross, bilious or feverish

No matter what ails your child, a gentle, thorough laxative should always be the first treatment given.

If your little one is out-of-sorts, half-sick, isn't resting, eating and acting naturally—look! Mother! see if tongue is coated. This is a sure sign that the little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with waste. When cross, irritable, feverish, stomach sour, breath bad or has stomachache, diarrhea, sore throat, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Fig Syrup," and in a few hours all the constipated poison, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of the little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again.

Mothers can rest easy after giving this harmless, "fruit laxative" because it never fails to cleanse the little one's liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach, and they dearly love its pleasant taste. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups printed on each bottle.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Fig Syrup," then see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."

WIDE TROUSERS ARE STILL FASHIONABLE

Oxford bags are still "in." This word, together with other details of the men's wardrobe was brought to Xenia by clothing merchants returning from the state clothiers convention this week at Columbus.

Young men will wear three-button coats exclusively, this spring, according to Xenia clothiers. Trousers will still be wide and the shades of men's suits have a tendency toward lighter colors. Tans predominate among the materials, with a goodly number of greys and some browns.

It is forecast for Fall that brown will be the leading color. Spring hats are light, the pastel shades being most popular. The flat brim hats are preferable. Sweaters and golf hose for the green are of plainer designs but are of beautiful combinations, it was noted at the style shows during the convention.

J. O. McDorman and Harold Oldham, of the McDorman-Crawford Co., Harold M. Owens and R. H. Kingsbury of The Criterion and Louis Hyman of the Hyman Clothing Store attended the sessions of the body this week.

A return to higher marks is promised for Friday due to the passing of the sub-zero stage in the middle-west and mountain states.

Snow fell continuously Thursday but was slowly melting due to a gradual rise in temperature.

The ditch is ten feet deep. The driver received cuts from flying glass. The machine was only slightly damaged.

LONGWORTH FAVORS BIG NAVY LEADERS
WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—Spurred on by the ringing declaration of Speaker Nicholas Longworth for a strong navy, the "big navy" bloc of the house today prepared to again force the preparedness issue with President Coolidge.

The opportunity is expected to come with disagreement between senate and house conferees on the three-cruiser amendment to the $35,000,000 naval supply bill, adopted in the senate over Mr. Coolidge's protest.

Immediately upon the report of a disagreement, a motion will be made in the house to accept the senate amendment. Having lost their cruiser fight in the house by a small margin, his navy forces are confident that another test would reverse the situation.

SALLY'S SALLIES
Women'll never cut their conversation as short as their hair.

TO STOP NAUSEA IN THE MORNING
Or Grogginess in the Stomach At any Time

Try a little diarepsin. You may be so sick in the morning that the odor of food adds to your misery. And yet one or two diarepsins instantly settle your stomach, the nausea disappears and you actually become hungry.

Diarepsin is composed of powerful digesters. They work on everything you eat, digesting starchy foods, milk, cream, eggs, meat and also absorb acids and gas. Heartburn, biliousness and dizziness disappear almost instantly.

Nausea may come from many causes but diarepsin works quickly in any case. Expectant mothers get real benefit from diarepsin, not alone in freedom from nausea but more nutrition from better digestion.

Get a 60 cent package of Paper's Diarepsin at any drug store. You'll never tolerate nausea again. —Adv.

Try a little diarepsin. You may be so sick in the morning that the odor of food adds to your misery. And yet one or two diarepsins instantly settle your stomach, the nausea disappears and you actually become hungry.

Diarepsin is composed of powerful digesters. They work on everything you eat, digesting starchy foods, milk, cream, eggs, meat and also absorb acids and gas. Heartburn, biliousness and dizziness disappear almost instantly.

Nausea may come from many causes but diarepsin works quickly in any case. Expectant mothers get real benefit from diarepsin, not alone in freedom from nausea but more nutrition from better digestion.

Get a 60 cent package of Paper's Diarepsin at any drug store. You'll never tolerate nausea again. —Adv.

LONGWORTH FAVORS BIG NAVY LEADERS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—Spurred on by the ringing declaration of Speaker Nicholas Longworth for a strong navy, the "big navy" bloc of the house today prepared to again force the preparedness issue with President Coolidge.

The opportunity is expected to come with disagreement between senate and house conferees on the three-cruiser amendment to the $35,000,000 naval supply bill, adopted in the senate over Mr. Coolidge's protest.

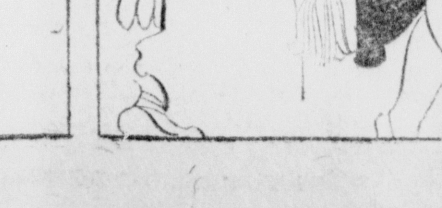

Immediately upon the report of a disagreement, a motion will be made in the house to accept the senate amendment. Having lost their cruiser fight in the house by a small margin, his navy forces are confident that another test would reverse the situation.

THINK OF THE HARVEST—Whatsoever a man soweth that shall he also reap. Galatians 6: 7.

TWO SIDES TO EVERY QUESTION

As a contribution to the wave of arguments that has greeted the suggestion, the National Paint, Oil and Varnish Association is issuing a statement that has succeeded in putting a different light on the controversy revolving around the question of eliminating deadly denaturants from denatured alcohol because some of it may be diverted for beverage purposes.

This statement, a defense of the position in which manufacturers using denatured alcohol find themselves during the present argument, bears witness to the adage that there are always two sides to every question.

"Denatured alcohol was authorized in 1906—nearly fourteen years before prohibition. It furnishes the arts and sciences with an essential tax free raw material which has been made unfit for use for beverage purposes," say the paint and varnish men.

"The tremendous progress of chemical industry in this country during the past twenty years would not have been possible without an ample supply of cheap industrial alcohol. It has been available to foreign competitors for nearly three-quarters of a century and constituted the very foundation of their achievements in the development of fuels, dyes, munitions, solvents and countless other commodities. In the World War the production of industrial alcohol was rated by the Allies as one of the 'key' industries.

"The agitation for the elimination from industrial alcohol of proved efficient denaturants is based upon the monstrous proposition that the Government should abandon formulae favored for over two decades by lawful business interests because, perchance, criminals may succeed in diverting the product to beverage purposes; the principle object of attack seems to be methanol (wood alcohol) which chemists the world over unite in proclaiming as the ideal denaturant. The present satisfactory formulae used in the production of paints, oils, varnishes, polishes and innumerable other articles of commerce, call for pure alcohol denatured with methanol.

"Those who argue that industrial alcohol should be made less impure are, in effect, asking that the Government go into partnership with criminals in breaking its own laws. Expressed differently, they would glorify lawlessness at the expense of legitimate industry."

In closing the statement says:

"All that the situation requires is for the Government to apprehend and punish the bootleggers who make illegal use of an indispensable commercial necessity."

TO BEAUTIFY A CITY

Theoretically a man who owns property ought to have the right to do what he wants to with his own land. Yet practically the man who does just as he wishes with his own property may create serious damage to his neighbors. For instance, if a man who owns a home in a pretty residence neighborhood should put up an ugly chicken coop in a conspicuous position, the neighborhood is to some extent damaged. Real estate promoters often establish restrictions on the use of land which those purchasing consent to for the benefit of the neighborhood.

Some people may object to certain restrictions, on the ground that they interfere too far with private rights. Yet these conditions may make the land more attractive to others because they seem to make the property more secure against deterioration. The bulk of the residence property in American towns has probably been sold without such conditions. An unrestricted neighborhood must rely on the good sense of its residents to keep their property in good shape.

People ought to realize that if they make any addition that is inappropriate or ugly, or if they put up structures unsuited to the location, a damage is done not merely to their neighbors, but to themselves as well. The inexpensive built town may show so much refinement in its homes and the care given to them, that it looks more pleasing and livable than one in which the average cost of the dwellings was twice as much.

OLD MAGAZINES

Shame for my crowded attic floor
Comes on me now and then.
It overflows with magazines
Saved up since nineteen-ten.
I plan to throw them all away.
Then, as I sort a pile,
I pause to laugh at fashion sheets
Where slit skirts were the style.
I never saw this serial!
These unread tales seem good!
And Tom would surely want those plans
For carving toys from wood.
A waning daylight comes to end
My cleaning-up attack.
I gather up the magazines
And throw the whole bunch back!

ACID INDIGESTION

Acid indigestion is, as many know, most annoying and frequently very difficult to get rid of. Probably many persons have had the same experience as Mrs. Van D.

"For six months I have had attacks of pain in my stomach about three hours after eating, otherwise I am feeling pretty well, except that I am always tired. Belching will sometimes relieve the pain. For three months I have been eating only milk, bread, eggs, rice, oatmeal and similar foods. The pain is not so severe as when I began dieting. Am forty-eight and have a colder and am always constipated and there is much acid in my stomach. What would you suggest?"

F. McK. writes me much in the same vein. My answer to them is: I should think it might be well to live exclusively on milk for a few weeks and take a teaspoonful of bicarbonate of soda in a glass of water, drinking it slowly before each meal. If this does not relieve you should have your stomach irrigated every two or three days.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

A. McA.: A poor man with seven children has been told he has ulcer of the stomach. He vomits almost everything and has a hard mass at the left of the navel. What would you advise for him?

Answer—I should fear from what you have said that the poor fellow has malignant disease. If you could have him taken to a medical center he might get help, though I must frankly say that the outlook is not good.

Mrs. E. A. S.: Am thirty-seven and for some time have been troubled with numbness in the legs and arms. The top of my head is also very sore much of the time and two weeks before the occurrence of the monthly sickness my breasts are as sore as a boil. Would you kindly give me some advice.

Answer—I think you are anemic, that is, your blood is not in good condition and your heart is not pumping with the vigor it ought to have. A good preparation of iron, like the elixir of iron, quinine and strychnia, would help you, and be sure and keep your bowels freely open every day.

E. J.: Please suggest a remedy for dysentery of seven months' standing in a man sixty years of age. He has tried many home remedies, oils, etc., and has consulted physicians who gave drugs producing temporary relief, but it always came back.

Answer—Epsac is the standard remedy for dysentery and may be given in the compound syrup or the tincture. It would also be very soothing to wash out the rectum two or three times daily with hot starch water.

S. W.: 1. What is the function of the uvula, which is located in the soft palate? 2. What effect would its removal have upon articulation?

Answer—1. I should suppose it had very little function. Like the tonsils, it seems to have been placed at the entrance to the pharynx, or throat, to guard against the free swallowing of food. That, however, is merely my surmise. 2. I have never discovered that it had any effect on articulation, and I have seen many who have had it removed. Many years ago a Swiss doctor created quite a furore in New York by emphasizing what he said was its uselessness, or even harmfulness, and he removed it in hundreds of cases. It was not long before the practice died out.

Ask Dr. Currier that medical question that has been puzzling you. Confine your letter to fifty words and send stamped, addressed envelope for reply. He cannot, of course, make individual diagnoses, and he reserves the right to decide as to the propriety of queries.

How to Achieve Beauty

STIMULATION FOR BEAUTY

Stimulation for a Mobile Body

I have often felt what a pity it is that we cannot operate as machines in the principle of being able to have lubricant oil poured in at the joint structures of our body to keep us limbered up and free going. For it is particularly on the joints that mobility depends.

But since such an easy method of lubrication as the above is not possible we must resort to what is.

Stimulation is the lubricant of the human system. It is to the body what oil is to the machine. And your will power is the only oil can which can force it in.

Stimulation here takes the form of exercise and massage. And my advice to you today to get busy with the exercises which particularly concentrate on the joints.

There are two fundamental kinds of exercise—the stretching exercises and those for co-ordination.

Stretching is for elastic mobility and co-ordination is more for harmonious mobility, but the two continually merge.

My space is too limited here today to give you a set of these stretching and co-ordinating exercises, and I shall have for the time being to ask you to look them up for yourself. There are several systems and they are all good if they do the work for you. I have given many of these exercises in my past articles and I can assure you that in the near future I am going to devote another whole week to them.

I am frequently asked to endorse one particular system of exercises over another, but I can only say that it is well to try out for a time whatever exercise is brought to your attention and which appeals to you, whether new or old, and if it brings results it is a good exercise.

But for a mobile body, concentrate your stimulation—that is to say, the attention in your exercising and your massage—on your joints, your knees, your elbows, your wrists and knuckles, which is the jointest joint of all.

MILLYGRAMS

By FRED C. KELLY

WE'RE ALL GAMBLERS

I sat one evening with a group of old friends who were talking about their struggles to gain a toe-hold at making a living.

Odd McIntyre told of his discouraging efforts years ago to sell a daily letter of New York gossip to newspapers.

For a long time he almost gave the letter away, and his total income was less than if he had been a country preacher.

A job as morgue-keeper might have been more cheerful, because it would have meant more regular meals.

"How did you happen to keep on writing the letter when it didn't pay?" somebody asked him.

"Oh," he replied modestly, "I just kept thinking that it eventually would pay well." And it did.

Another member of the group, a highly successful lawyer, said that he took in exactly $2.50 the first month of legal practice and his total for the first six months was only $27.

Still another man, head of a prosperous manufacturing business, told of mortgaging his home and risking several years' savings to start his business in one small room.

Suddenly it dawned on me that all these men had been gamblers. We preach against gambling and yet every successful man has to be that very thing! Life itself is a series of gambles. You are taking chances when you marry one girl rather than another.

Playing poker is probably foolish, but sooner or later if you succeed you must take risks. Every man who borrows money to feed an infant business and keep it going until it can support itself is a speculator. He is willing to wager money, time, and energy on an uncertainty because of something he has faith in. The ambitious boy who takes a humble job and does his work the best he can, is gambling. He is betting that this job offers him a bigger future than if he quit and took up something else.

When you see a great business enterprise, covering many acres, you may be reasonably sure that in the beginning it did not pay. It is a monument to the fellow who, against odds, believed in it and stuck to it.

My lawyer friend who worked six months for $27 might have made more at first by running an elevator, but he was playing for what speculators call the long pull.

To be a successful gambler when operating for the long pull in this game of life, you must be bullish as the stock brokers say, about yourself. You must believe in yourself so strongly that you are willing to risk much on whatever you're trying to do.

You must have courage to say to the Unknown Dealer, even when things look black:

"Yes, I'll take one more stack of chips. I still believe I'm going to win."

MAKING MODERN MENUS

When you plan to introduce nut meats into your menu remember that one cup of nut meats represents, in fats, two-fifths of a cup of butter. To supplement meals where fats are not used in large quantities, nuts may be used in many ways.

NUT AND MEAT LOAF

One and one-half cups of round steak ground, one cup of crumbs moistened in cold water, then pressed dry, half a cup of finely chopped peanuts, one well-beaten egg, a teaspoon of grated onion, with salt, pepper and paprika to taste. This should be baked for thirty-five minutes in a hot oven and served with a brown meat gravy.

BAKED CHEESE AND NUTS

One cup each of grated cheese, chopped nuts and bread crumbs, with one tablespoon each of melted butter, chopped green pepper and grated onion, seasoning to taste and one well-beaten egg. Sauté the pepper and onion in the butter, add the crumbs, and stir until they are brown. Mix all the ingredients together lightly, moisten with the egg and a little milk if necessary, make into a loaf and bake until crisp and brown. Serve with baked tomatoes and cream gravy.

The first round will begin Friday morning February 25 at 9:30 o'clock and games will be played continually all day. Play will be resumed Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock with the finals for both boys and girls set for Saturday evening.

Silver loving cups to become the permanent possession of the winners, will be awarded the schools finishing in first and second place in both divisions.

Boys' teams finishing one, two in the tournament will also represent Greene County in the Class B State Regional meet at Dayton March 4 and 5.

East High School of Xenia, although a Class B school, is not eligible for participation in the annual meet here, but arrangements have been completed for the Xenia school to play separately in the regional tournament. Thus Greene County will be represented by three schools.

Proceeds of the tournament will be divided equally among the competing schools as an identical number of teams are entered by each school.

Plans have been abandoned for the staging of the annual Tri-County Invitational Tournament sponsored by Ross Twp. High School March 11 to 12 and a second invitational tournament sponsored by Cedarville College the following week, on March 19.

County officials advised at under a ruling of the last session, Commissioner H. R. Townsend, of the State Athletic Association, will not sanction the holding of any private basketball tournament in Ohio other than the annual meets, open only to schools of the county in which the tournament is held.

The ruling was thought necessary because of the great number of meets held under auspices of various colleges, Y. M. C. A.'s, Parent-Teacher Associations, lodges and clubs over the state for which the proceeds were given over to private uses and the high school players did not get value received for their services. The commissioner stated these organizations received the sole benefit from the tournaments.

Unaware of the ruling, Cedarville College is reported to have laid plans for the tournament in March and a number of entries from surrounding counties had already been received when the plans had to be abandoned.

Superintendent Roush first learned of the ruling which had heretofore escaped attention of school authorities and it was confirmed when he made a special trip to Columbus to interview commissioner Townsend.

ST. BRIGIDS LOSES NIP AND TUCK CONTEST TO URBANA FIVE

Locals Lead in Field Goals But Are Out-shot From The Foul Line—Visitors Cling To Slender Lead

Never trailing by more than a few points at any stage of the game but baffled in their efforts to score with any degree of consistency, St. Brigids High School basketball team were defeated 17 to 15 by St. Marys High School of Urbana in a game that was nip and tuck all the way Wednesday night at the Central High gym.

Pre-series gossip indicated that the teams were evenly matched and after the Wednesday game there was no room for doubt.

Xenia at times played a heady game but was apparently puzzled by the visitor's style of play, finding trouble in breaking up their dribbling tactics and in solving their short-pass attack.

St. Brigids excelled in making field goals but its defeat is attributed entirely to a faculty for committing personal fouls and failure to turn its own chances from the short bar into points.

In baskets from the field the locals held the upper hand, scoring seven to Urbana's five. In foul goals it was a different story for Urbana shot seven fouls in eleven attempts while Xenia connected but once from the free throw line in five efforts.

Cain, playing a forward position for St. Brigids, was banished from the contest in the fourth quarter because of an excess number of personals, but not until he had scored five points for his team in scoring. Geiger was outstanding in the local lineup in a defensive way.

Kerns and Ruzzutti, between them, scored fifteen of their team's points, the former making nine and the latter six. Time and again the first-footed Kerns penetrated the local defense for pretty baskets and both players were deadly from the foul line.

St. Marys led at the end of the first quarter 4 to 2 and retained its one-point advantage throughout the second spasm, the half ending in favor of the visitors, 8 to 7. The third quarter was almost a repetition of the first with Xenia slow in getting started, Urbana leading 11 to 9 at the end of the period.

Ohio Senate, Thursday afternoon reconsidered the bill of Senator L. T. Marshall, Xenia, in regard to granting $145,000 state aid to the teachers' training department at Wilmington College and passed a similar measure by a vote of 20 to 10, after the bill had been amended to provide an appropriation of $112,000.

The Senate, by a vote of 18 to 12, defeated the bill introduced by Senator Marshall, Tuesday.

After the Senate first defeated the bill, majority leader Chester C. Bolton, announced he had agreed to a reconsideration, providing the bill were sent to the Senate Finance Committee for consideration along with appropriations for other purposes. The bill was introduced to be available for the operation of the school for eighteen months.

William Holt, Dayton, driver of a Kroger Grocery and Baking Co. truck, was fined $25 and costs by Justice of the Peace J. E. Jones, Thursday morning, when he pleaded guilty to overloading his truck, and failing to comply with the highway weight laws.

Holt's truck was stopped and the driver arrested by County Road Patrolman Kenneth C. Barr, Wednesday afternoon on the Dayton-Xenia Pike. The truck was loaded with eleven tons when the law permits seven and one-half tons as the maximum.

FACULTY DEFEATS SENIORS AND SOPHS WALK ON FRESHIES

Faculty nosed out the strong senior team 17 to 16 and the sophomores defeated the freshmen 8 to 3 in the second round of the Intra-Mural Basketball League at Central High School Wednesday.

Faculty met with much stronger opposition than expected and won only after the hardest kind of a struggle. As in the preceding game, Coach Vic Kolb was high point man with eight baskets.

Henrie was outstanding in the senior lineup with six points.

The fact the freshmen were unable to score a single field goal indicated the tight defense of the sophomore quintet in the second game. Scurry led the sophs with seven points, Zell making one.

XENIA HATCHERIES COMPANY LAUNCHES PRODUCTION HERE

Four thousand, seven hundred baby chicks hatched last week at the Xenia Hatcheries Co., Washington St., represents the initial production of Xenia's newest business enterprise.

They are the first of a half-million baby chicks the new company expects to market this year, according to Leland Cramer, Xenia, who, with William R. Steele, Chillicothe, founded and owns the new business.

The initial hatch included six varieties of poultry, and will be followed by weekly hatchings until the company reaches its maximum production. Four incubators, each with 10,368 egg capacity, are so operated that baby chicks will be produced weekly, although each hatching requires twenty-one days.

The company occupies the plant which formerly housed the Eavey Packing Co., and has launched its business with the most approved hatching equipment. It will purchase from local people about $40,000 annually in eggs and has registered 361 flocks of pure bred chickens for its supply this season, which extends from January 9 to June 30.

Stimulation of poultry raising in Greene County is expected by officials, due to the company's demand for eggs. To insure quality eggs the company has blood-tested 20,000 fowls for elimination of infected bacillary white diarrhea and is extending its service to Clinton and Fayette Counties.

Mr. Cramer was formerly connected with the Babb Hardware Store in charge of its hatchery department and has had eleven years experience in poultry work. The company holds membership in the International Baby Chick Association, Ohio Baby Chick Association and is a charter member of the United States Egg Society.

Just AMONG US GIRLS

by Kathryn Kenney

"WORN OUT LINES"

A great many people are hung by their own lines. And others go through life tripping over them. Many a woman who wants a spring coat throws out a clothes line. Sometimes her husband gets his head in the noose.

Even the lines in your face speak, but never mind, that's the latest wrinkle!

The telephone lines are among the worst to be handed out. Some people drop a nickel and try to talk a dime's worth. From the sound of things that would take them all night!

There is the person who calls up and says, "Guess who this is?" He likes to keep you guessing but don't let him keep gassing. If you could only guess, you'd be right over!

There is the early-rising friend who can't wait until 6:30 to call you up. He asks if he awakened

If a man tries to hold her hand she tells him that she has shattered all her ideals and he says he'll have them repainted for her the next day.

The mother's line about her son is always good, just three times as good as the son. She just knows that all the girls are leading him astray—provided they can catch up with him. She is certain that he hasn't forgotten all the lessons he learned at mother's knee—but he certainly has changed knees!

The man who brings his business into the drawing room can't meet you socially without telling you how he has the key to John D.'s brain cell. He may be the leading man in his own production, but he doesn't produce anything. His "supporting" cast consists of the entire family!

There is the parlor past who tells dialect stories and gets slightly

When you listen to conversations at a social gathering it seems as though bores have to do a lot of drilling. Have a line but change it occasionally, if you want to rope anyone in!

IS THERE NO RELIEF FROM SKIN TORTURE?

Must I Continue to Suffer the Unbearable Itching? Are you one of those unfortunate who are going through life suffering with a skin disease, making you uncomfortable, making you less efficient, interfering with your working hours, ruining your sleep? You may have tried many things without relief. Why not try S.S.S.? For more than 100 years it has been giving relief in many forms of skin disease. Thousands of letters of gratitude prove its worth. "I feel so happy for what S.S.S. has done for me that I want others to know about it. I suffered twenty long years from eczema. At times the itching was unbearable. During that time, I used all kinds of salves without receiving any real benefit. After taking six bottles of S.S.S., I was cured of this dreadful disease. I recommend S.S.S. to anyone suffering from eczema, because I cannot praise it enough for what it has done for me." Cleophas Forte, Soldiers and Sailors Home, Quincy, Ill. S.S.S. is purely vegetable. as today when 'moth and rust' corrupts and thieves break through and steal."

He took up as his second point, "the evil eye." "Christ is talking about the divided attention, one eye on heaven and the other on earth," he explained. "Christ knew what He was talking about, you cannot see anything if your eyes are out of focus."

The third point was "The Money God or the Money Devil." "You cannot be a slave to two masters," declared the Bible teacher. "Gold tightens the grip on a person and it is hard to get away from its clutch. Covetousness is the greatest modern sin, which is not called sin anymore. Have you ever heard of a person being excluded from the church on account of covetousness alone? Serving the god or devil of money is dangerous and takes away the love of God."

"Fourth, are the slaves of fashion and the kitchen—a special word to women. Be not anxious about what ye shall eat, or what ye shall put on. Christ teaches that we should not worry so much about the passing, showy fashions and diet lists. Fifth, 'first things first.' Seek the Kingdom of God and His righteousness and all these things shall be added unto you. Most of us are getting second and third things first, and we are not happy in our lives. A physician suggests one half hour of Bible reading and prayer."

WHAT to WEAR and HOW to WEAR IT

By LUCY CLAIRE

Favorite Fashion Adviser
of the Smart Set

Today I have arrived at the twelve-year-old age and I am attaching special importance to this article for although these little misses are still very young in years, their ideas of clothes are far more matured and you will find that many a recess period during school days is devoted to an exchange of opinions on clothes.

Simplicity still remains the keynote of good taste and judgment for this mode, but there are many little style trends which can be incorporated without violating these principles.

For example, there is the little peasant dress at the left which reflects our favoritism for that style. Made of dull green gingham, its yoke, belt and cuffs are smocked in green thread of a darker shade. The waist-line is loose with just a suggestion of blousing and the sleeves are long and full.

In the center I have shown a dress which appears a bit more intricate in pattern, but this effect is achieved through a combination of colors and trimmings. The striped gingham is coral color with a narrow pin stripe of black. The center panel which develops into an eon jacket line across the back is bound with strips of black. The

Take for instance a flock of 400 hens. Three hundred pounds of Blatchford's Fill-the-Basket Egg Mash should feed them for thirty days. If as a result this flock laid only one more egg a day it would justify paying fifty cents more per 100 pound bag for Blatchford's Fill-the-Basket Egg Mash than for any other feed, and under anything like favorable conditions the increase in eggs will be not one but several more per day. Try it and see. Be fair to yourself and Blatchford's Fill-the-Basket Egg Mash by making the trial period at least ninety days.

THE
INSIDE OUT

By FRED R. RIPLEY

Ninth Article of a Series
The law contains a special provision for reduced taxes on "earned income." The term "earned income" is defined as including wages, salaries, professional fees, and other amounts received as compensation for personal services actually rendered, but not including that part of compensation derived by a taxpayer for personal services rendered by him to a corporation which represents a distribution of earnings and profits rather than a reasonable allowance as compensation for the personal services actually rendered.

In the case of a taxpayer engaged in a trade or business in which both personal services and capital are material income-producing factors (for example, a merchant), a reasonable allowance as compensation for the personal services actually rendered by the taxpayer, not in excess of 20 per cent of his share of the net profits of the trade or business, is to be considered as earned income.

The profit from the sale of a patent or a mine is not considered earned income.

The allowable credit is based upon the "earned income" which means the excess of the amount of the earned income over deductions which are properly allowable to or chargeable against earned incomes (for example, traveling expenses.)

If the taxpayer's net income is not more than $5,000, his entire net income is to be considered "earned income" and if his net income is more than $5,000, his "earned net income" is to be considered to be not less than $5,000.

In no case is the "earned net income" to be considered to be more than $20,000. Thus in every case of a net income of over $5,000 (except where certain limitations apply) there is to be deducted from the tax computed at the ordinary rates a credit of not less than 25 per cent of the tax at the ordinary rates on $5,000 and not more than 25 per cent of the tax at the ordinary rates on $20,000.

A taxpayer who receives a salary of, for example $30,000, can only claim $20,000 thereof as "earned net income."

The present regulations state that in addition to the normal tax there shall be "levied, collected and paid for each taxable year upon the net income of every individual a surtax," as follows:

Upon a net income of $10,000 there shall be no surtax; upon net incomes in excess of $10,000 and not in excess of $14,000, 1 per cent of such excess.

$40 upon net incomes of $14,000; and upon net incomes in excess of $14,000 and not in excess of $16,000, 2 per centum in addition of such excess.

$80 upon net incomes of $16,000; and upon net incomes in excess of $16,000 and not in excess of $18,000, 3 per centum in addition of such excess.

$140 upon net incomes of $18,000; and upon net incomes in excess of $18,000 and not in excess of $20,000, 4 per centum in addition of such excess.

$220 upon net incomes of $20,000; and upon net incomes in excess of $20,000 and not in excess of $22,000, 5 per centum in addition of such excess.

(The final article of the series tomorrow.)

Rupture Can Be Cured

Science Finds

Heals Without Operation, Delay or Danger

New Discovery Seals Rupture—Masters Human Scourge Which Defied Doctors for Ages. Thousands Tell of Complete Cure; Safety and Cleanliness Assured.

Try This New Way
FREE

So Light, Small and Comfortable is the New Rupture Cure, It Can Not Be Noted Even When the Wearer is Clad in Tights. Several Dancers, Sufferers from Rupture Due to the Unusual Exertion, Have Been Cured by New Discovery.

Rupture can be healed.

Medical science, endless investigation, combined with modern inventiveness has devised a method which actually seals rupture. For ages, the healing of rupture, or hernia as it is known medically, has been the aim of countless physicians and surgeons.

Investigations into the ill and body afflictions of ancient times, disclose that in days, when history was noted on tablets of stone, rupture was known and even then priests of that time, were aimlessly trying to effect a cure. Trusses, as the implements which hold or retain the rupture are called, were in use at that period in history, but like the modern truss they held the rupture but failed to assist nature in healing the wound.

The ancients' attempts at healing were mere gropings, as they knew nothing of the circulation of blood and its effect on body tissue and growth. The various phases of growth were mysteries which they were unable to fathom. Since Sir William Harvey, an English scientist of the early century, discovered that blood really circulated through the body, sending life-giving materials to all parts of the human system, the path of the rupture scientists has been more easy to follow.

They attempted to find, if possible, some method of retaining the rupture safely, yet something which would allow free circulation of blood and not irritate the edges of the hernia or rupture and which would heal the tear.

Assists Nature to Heal

This has been done. Experiments carried on for more than 30 years has resulted in the perfection of an appliance, light, safe, comfortable and clean, which assists nature and really seals the rupture. An additional improvement has been made; the entire appliance, which weighs less than two ounces, can now be washed in water or antiseptic, eliminating all body odors, irritations and causes of skin blistering. The announcement was withheld for some time, so that thousands of experiments which had been carried on in all sections of America, Holland, England, Canada and Germany could be investigated and the condition of those observed at frequent intervals.

These investigations have been made and it has been found that a great number of cures have been effected. That the cures have been permanent ones, is attested by letters written by the people themselves and sent to the offices of those who perfected the new rupture appliance. These included people in every walk of life, people who make their living by hard work, where strains, heavy lifting and constant muscular effort is necessary. Others include society women, working women and women in moderate circumstances. The cures have been general in all classes.

Heals the Aged

In their zeal to prove the worth of the new process, men and women of advanced years were selected and their experiences recorded. A probe showed that even in this class, a great number of permanent cures had resulted, where the patient followed closely the instructions of the experts.

To really understand what this great discovery and these years of experimenting and testing mean to humanity, it is almost necessary that a full description of the new method be given. Like all inventions and discoveries of science, its method of healing is based on logic and upon a keen knowledge of the subject.

A rupture or hernia, as it is known in medical science, is literally a tear or a separation of the muscle fibers in the walls of the abdomen. This separation is caused by a heavy strain, a violent jerking or unusual exertion. The fibers separate and allow a portion of the intestine to protrude through the opening. This results in a small knot or knob on the wall of the abdomen.

Before the investigation, which resulted in the discovery of this new method of healing, there were but two courses open. A physician or surgeon could be called and an operation performed or the patient or sufferer could seek some sort of comfort from a truss, which pushed itself into the rupture opening, keeping the protruding intestine inside the body.

The operation was expensive and dangerous, with the outcome a doubtful thing.

All the surgeon with his knife, could promise to do, was to bring the edges of the torn section together and sew it, then await the action of nature and allow growth to renew the torn sections.

Truss Prevents Cure

If the truss was called into service, the hard leather knob was forced into the tear, where constant irritation wore thin the edges of the wound and the hard pressure prevented proper blood circulation. The sufferer was forced to resign himself to a lifetime of rupture suffering, never free from the harness of the truss. No hope was held out by scientists, that his rupture would ever cure itself, although many manufacturers of appliances contended that such a thing was possible; scientific investigation showed that it was impossible to heal the rupture as long as the heavy pad was being pushed into the rupture opening, separating the edges of the tear and wearing thin, the edges of the torn section.

The heavy springs in the usual truss pressed into the body, many times injuring the kidneys and causing unrepairable damage to the back, where the heavy steel pressed into the tender nerves, centered in the spinal column. Besides this, so cruel was the old-fashioned truss, it was impossible to sleep in the apparatus, with the result that in sleep many times, the rupture "came out" and even a doctor was unable to replace it. When this happened, an immediate operation was necessary if the life of the patient was to be saved. Peritonitis would result in 24 hours if the rupture strangulated or could not be replaced. The old truss was not washable; it caused skin irritations and the dirt which accumulated caused a feverish condition which retarded the cure.

The great number of rupture cases among small children and babies made necessary some method which would eliminate forever the pushing pad, the dangerous operation and heavy steel encircling the body, injuring the delicate nerve centers.

Experiments Bring Cure

The experiments resulted in the discovery and perfection of the Brooks appliance. C. E. Brooks, a resident of Marshall, Michigan, was ruptured. He was not a doctor but he was a well educated man. Rupture causes and rupture cures became his hobby and after many years he developed the appliance which now bears his name.

The Outline Drawing of a section of the abdominal wall, shows the New and Old Way by Which Rupture Was Treated. Until the Present Discovery, a Heavy Pad or Knob Was Used, It Forced Itself Into the Rupture Opening, Retaining the Rupture But Making Cure Impossible.

He soon found the deficiencies of the truss—the things it did to hinder cure and to retard healing. So he developed an appliance which did everything which the truss failed to do. With reverse logic he invented the rupture appliance which resulted in the many cures narrated.

Can Be Washed Daily

His appliance, built scientifically and recommended by physicians and doctors in all sections of the world, lays—not pushes—on the rupture. Small, light, clean, safe and comfortable, its soft velvet-like air cushion of hygienic rubber retains the rupture and at the same time tends to bring the edges of the tear together. The action of the small oval is to gently close the wound, and in this way allow growth. Nature, when assisted, soon repairs the damage wrought in the injured side and the result is a cure for the sufferer. The washable, sanitary feature, so necessary if cure is expected and health assured, was incorporated into this new invention.

He eliminated at once all metal springs and hard, unyielding pads. Soft washable material encircles the body and acts as a support for the small oval. There are no features in the newly perfected appliance which do not work toward the cure of the patient. Every movement of the body, results in the edges of the wound being brought closer together, reversing the action of the old style which constantly forced the edges of the wound apart.

It is so light, so comfortable that it can be worn even while asleep, so that night and day, asleep or at work, the rupture is being healed.

Thousands Cured

It is no wonder then that so many people have been cured by this new discovery. A volume of letters began to flow into the offices of the inventor as soon as these cures were effected. People who thought they were destined to wear a truss all their lives or submit to a dangerous operation, reported cures in a few months while cures with small children were regular occurrences.

To ascertain the truth of the reports of permanent cures by the use of the new invention, a check was taken over a period of years and letters written to hundreds who had worn the new device. The answers were amazing—the number of cures astounding. Hundreds, literally thousands, torn for years by rupture and weakened by its effects, had gained freedom from all devices by the consistent use of the new invention.

In a letter to the inventors, Mrs. Thomas Scott of 11637 125th Street, Edmonton, Alta., Canada, said: "One year ago I bought your rupture appliance for my little girl, who was three years old. She is now four and the rupture hasn't bothered her since I put the appliance on.

Strains of Unusual Positions, Mean Nothing to Rupture Sufferers Now, as Science Has Perfected a Cure for Rupture Which Even During the Healing Stage Does Not Interfere With the Body Actions.

"I surely am very thankful to you and you may use this letter, as it may help some other worried mother."

An amazing cure was effected by C. H. Campbell, a carpenter, 75 years old, living at Freeport, N. S., Canada, who had been ruptured many years. He said:

"I am pleased to inform you that I do not need anything in connection with the appliance, for I have not worn same for the last nine months and consider myself cured of rupture."

"The rupture has not troubled me for the last four years—thanks to you and your invention. It was a God-send to me, for the doctor said there was nothing for me but the knife. I am seventy-five years old and work every day at my trade as a carpenter. You are at liberty to use the above statement in any way you choose."

A brief period cured E. W. Brown of Norwich, N. Y., who states:

"I discontinued wearing my appliance about six weeks ago and am happy to say that my rupture is entirely healed. Was examined by my doctor and pronounced cured. Considering my age, 61 years, think this is wonderful work."

"Cannot express to you just how grateful I am, for up to the time I commenced wearing your appliance was miserable every minute."

Steel Trusses Fail

A proof that spring trusses failed to effect a cure while the more modern Brooks appliance made possible a cure which even a doctor pronounced positive. The letter from Albert Foote, P. O. Box 177, Sterling, Mass., said:

"Gentlemen: I wore your grand rupture appliance for one year day and night, after which I underwent a doctor's examination. He stated I was completely cured. This examination was made in December, 1921, and I haven't worn the appliance since and have had no trouble."

"I suffered from a double rupture and had used spring trusses for six years without help."

A further proof that the cures are permanent ones, is verified by John Clark, Roan Mountain, Tenn., R. F. D. No. 2, Box 84, who said:

"Your rupture appliance has cured me—I have been well for two years. You may use my name and this letter in any way you wish, for I feel very grateful."

A sad case was disclosed when a man writing from Peoria, Illinois, gave the following statement.

"Dear Mr. Brooks: I am returning the rupture appliance for refund, as father died from strangulated hernia the day before it came."

"We tried two years ago to get him to order one of your appliances and cannot help but feel that if he had done as we wanted him to—he would have been spared."

Never Sold at Stores

Unscrupulous advertisers are endeavoring to sell the public a cheap substitute for the Brooks Appliance, claiming that it is genuine. Do not be misled by imitations and substitutions. The genuine Brooks Appliance is never sold through agents nor at stores of any kind. Every appliance is made at Marshall, Michigan, to your individual requirements. Look for trademark bearing portrait of C. E. Brooks which appears on every appliance. None other genuine.

Thousands Cured

On file in the offices of the company are thousands of letters, telling of the cures effected by this new invention and many of them full of thanks and gratitude for the cure which they had always thought impossible or too dangerous to attempt.

So convinced are the people who now make this new invention that it will cure rupture and bring instant relief they will allow a ten-day free trial of the new appliance. In ten days, they believe any rupture sufferer can tell whether or not it is satisfactory in his or her particular case. If it fails to give the comfort that they feel it should it can be returned.

Free Trial

The financial standing of the people who make this newly perfected appliance is above reproach. They give as references, banks, ministers, physicians and express companies in their city or in practically any large city in the entire nation.

"To gamble with rupture," said a prominent scientist, "is to gamble with life itself. Trusses hamper the wearer, they many times ruin the health of children for life. To secure an appliance which retains and at the same time assists healing is wonderful and means much to mankind."
